

Stéphane Roecker

Seed investor, Non-Executive Director

Stéphane is a strategic advisor and board member for growing companies.

In 2005, he obtained an MBA from HEC Paris in strategy and leadership and he participated later in the Bootcamp program at MIT Boston. He speaks French, German and English.

For more than 20 years, Stéphane has worked as a member of the management committees in leading companies with revenues of up to € 300 million.

He had the opportunity to participate in 2 LBOs with American and European investment funds - as a CFO in the first, and as a CEO in the second.

Since 2015, he has developed his consulting activity for growing companies in which he regularly invests.

He is an expert with accreditation by the European Commission (EIC Accelerator) for innovative companies with high potential in diverse industries spanning Manufacturing industry, Services, IoT, Nanotechnology or MedTech.

He is also a mentor-evaluator for EIT Health and works with incubators and competitiveness clusters in value proposition and business modeling, which are two of his main areas of expertise.